

Spin waves

Spins can interact with their neighbours, so chains of spins can move together, with each spin nudging its neighbour. By moving one spin, you can make a 'spin wave' travel along the chain, like a pulse travelling along the length of a spring.

